3 About the portfolio manager

Cutcher & Neale

Cutcher & Neale is an accounting and financial advisory firm established in 1953.

In 1994, Cutcher & Neale expanded into investment services including wealth management, and financial planning. This division is known as Cutcher & Neale Investment Services.

Since 1994, the Investment Services division has been operating direct investment portfolios for clients using a similar investment philosophy and style to the portfolios offered under this service.

Investment philosophy

Investment strategy and robust asset allocation can assist with maximising the benefits and minimising the risk across client portfolios. This is a key part of achieving clients' individual goals and objectives.

Cutcher & Neale have a structured approach to portfolio construction and security selection, which has been the basis of their investment management service for over 20 years. This approach is built on the following principals:

- Strategic Asset Allocation is a key driver of portfolio performance and is subject to regular review
- Long term, low turnover portfolios are preferred
- Investments are made within the context of a structured investment committee and thematic based investment methodology to identify key technology, demographic and economic trends and position portfolios to capture opportunities that may arise from these themes.

Individual securities are assessed for intrinsic value, liquidity, ratio analysis including price to earnings ratio, plus current and future dividend potential. Analysis is conducted in-house and is supported by broker research and a network of third party relationships the group accesses. Securities are predominantly large-cap stocks with small caps accessed as economic circumstances dictate.

Cutcher & Neale draws on research, opinions and data from a broad array of domestic and global providers. This flexibility and rigour behind the investment approach enhances the value in their client solution.

Investment process

The Cutcher & Neale investment process incorporates a multi-step process in constructing and managing its investment portfolios. All decisions are taken within an investment committee where ideas are debated, discussed and documented.

Asset Allocation

Cutcher & Neale's initial focus is on the delivery of high quality asset allocation within which investment decisions are taken. Cutcher & Neale believe that this is a key determinant of portfolio performance over time.

Macroeconomic trends and analysis

Cutcher & Neale starts by identifying regions, sectors, and themes that appear attractive and offer compelling value or momentum. These may be driven by economic, demographic, political or strategic factors (among others), and are derived from a broad selection of research, data, and critical analysis on diverse and nuanced insight.

Stock identification

An intensive process that draws on available research and market opinions to identify the companies that are best placed to exploit these opportunities. Factors such as intrinsic valuation, dividend potential, financial metrics such as price to earnings ratios, and fit with a preferred thematic are taken into consideration.

Risk management

An overarching focus on protecting client investments remains at the heart of the Cutcher & Neale investment process. This involves actively managing exposures across sectors, themes and geographic regions, and the use of cash as a strategic tool. Whilst Cutcher & Neale actively track and measure index correlations and benchmarks, they are not bound by them.

How does the Portfolio Manager manage risk?

The Portfolio Manager is unable to eliminate all investment risk, but does analyse, manage and aim to reduce the impact of risks by actively monitoring investment markets and portfolios and through the use of carefully considered investment guidelines.

Labour standards and environmental, social and ethical considerations

The Trustee does not take into account labour standards, environmental, social or ethical considerations when making the investments available. The approach in relation to any consideration of labour, environmental, social or ethical standards as part of the investment decision making process for the portfolio is left by the Trustee to the individual discretion of the Portfolio Manager. This investment strategy does not directly measure or incorporate labour, environmental, social or ethical standards as part of the investment decision-making process.

The Portfolio Manager is aware that these issues can influence social, business and investor outcomes; in certain circumstances they may consider these issues when making an investment decision. The Portfolio Manager's consideration of labour, environmental, social or ethical considerations are in its own right and not on behalf of the Trustee.

Execution of strategy

Mason Stevens Limited and its associated entities has been appointed by the Trustee to provide various services in relation to the Fund, including promoter, investment management and custody services. Mason Stevens and the Administrator are responsible for implementing the investment instructions of the investment manager by buying and selling assets, taking into consideration timing, trading costs (such as transaction fees and currency costs, if applicable) and the mandate of the portfolio. In certain circumstances Mason Stevens has the right to vary the Managed Portfolio. By investing in this Managed Portfolio, you instruct Mason Stevens and the Administrator to buy and sell assets on your behalf through the Managed Portfolio as advised by the Portfolio Manager.

Risks

Before you consider investing in this portfolio, it's important you understand the risks that can affect your investments. A summary of key risks is in the PDS.

See the 'Risks' section in the PDS. Please note this is not an exhaustive list of all the risks. The risks relevant to this portfolio reflect the underlying investments. For information about risks regarding your personal situation speak to your adviser.

Trade notifications

When the Portfolio Manager trades, or rebalances the portfolios, Mason Stevens (through the Service) may send you an advice notifying you of the trades being undertaken. This is called a 'trade notification'. The rebalance and reallocation of Managed Portfolios may occur regularly and you may receive a trade notification each time a rebalance or reallocation occurs.
