2] HOW SUPER WORKS

Understanding how super works is important in maximising the benefit you receive.

Superannuation is compulsory for most working Australians and some tax concessions are provided by the Government.

Compulsory contributions are made by your employer and include contributions made under an award, or superannuation guarantee (SG) contributions. You can usually ask your employer to pay the SG contributions to a super fund of your choice.

In addition to compulsory contributions, you can increase your retirement savings by making the following contributions:

- » Voluntary personal contributions
- » Salary sacrifice contributions
- » Contributions if you are self-employed
- » Government co contributions

up to the yearly limit imposed by the Government on your contributions.

As there are also dollar limits to the tax concession on super contributions set by the Government, you will need to carefully monitor the dollar amount of super contributions you make each financial year to avoid additional tax being imposed on contributions made by you or on your behalf. See the How super is taxed section in the Additional Information Guide.

Who can contribute?

Contributions are usually dependant on your age and whether you are currently in the workforce (a work test will apply for people over the age of 65).

If you are over the age of 18 and earn more than $450 a month, contributions are generally made by your employer. You may also receive Government co contributions if you are eligible.

Other contributions can be made by your spouse (including de facto or same sex partner).

Withdrawing from super

When you have reached your preservation age and have retired you can access your super as a lump sum or receive a regular income. You can also access some or all of your super if you meet a condition of release such as permanent incapacity or financial hardship.

If you reach your preservation age but are still working, you can withdraw some of your benefit. For further information see the Additional Information Guide for details of your preservation age.

Consolidate your super

You can roll over the balance from your current super fund and consolidate any lost super or multiple super accounts into the Fund. If you have multiple super accounts, you may be paying additional fees for each account.

You should consider if it is beneficial to consolidate multiple super accounts. Your adviser will be able to assist you.

For further information about how super works, including how to make contributions and accessing your super, go to moneysmart.gov.au.

3] BENEFITS OF INVESTING WITH MASON STEVENS SUPER

Investment choice

Members have a wide range of investment choices including Australian and international equities, fixed income securities, managed funds and professionally managed portfolios.

With guidance from your financial adviser you can develop a diverse portfolio of investments tailored to suit your circumstances and retirement goals.

Next generation technology

The Service provides you with the latest technology, allowing you to access market information, consolidate your super accounts via SuperMatch, provide investment instructions, see details of your investment holdings, performance and produce reports.

Competitive fees

A competitive fee structure that encompasses the administration, reporting and online access for your account. Your adviser can help you link multiple Mason Stevens Super accounts (conditions apply), including your own and those of immediate family members, which may reduce the administration fee payable.

Insurance choice

If you need insurance such as death, TPD and income protection cover, a selection of leading insurance providers is offered for you to choose from. This allows you and your adviser to consider an insurance solution that will meet your needs and complement your investment objectives.

You should read the Additional Information Guide about the benefits of investing and how super works before making a decision to invest. This Guide is available from your adviser or the Fund's website masonstevens.com.au/super.

Choosing the right life stage

Three types of accounts are offered to suit your life stage. These accounts are linked to the following phases:-

» Super phase (accumulation)

The super or accumulation phase is designed to allow you to save and build your wealth for retirement. All types of contributions are accepted including rollovers from other superannuation funds. If you require insurance, you have the option of choosing from several different insurance providers.

» Transition to retirement (TTR) phase

If you have reached preservation age but have not made the decision to retire, then the TTR phase allows you to continue to build your superannuation, and withdraw a pension benefit. You must still be working to be eligible to make contributions. See the Additional Information Guide for details on your preservation age.

» Pension phase

The pension phase allows you to draw a regular income once you reach retirement. Pensions can only be funded from the superannuation benefit you have accumulated. The regular income you receive may be subject to nominal or a tax free status.

As you move through your life stages your investments move with you in each life stage. You can also change your investment mix at any time to suit your needs.

4] RISKS OF SUPER

A wide range of investment choices is offered with each investment choice carrying a different level of risk.

Risk is the possibility that the performance of the investment choice will be below your expectation or you may lose money.

Generally, investments that have the potential for higher long term returns may also carry a greater level of short term risk.

Before you make an investment decision, it is important that you obtain personal advice about your financial circumstances and also understand the risks that can affect your investment. Some of the potential risks associated with investing in the Fund include:

- » The value of your investment will vary over time (i.e. will go up and down)
- » The level of returns will vary, and future returns will differ from past returns
- » Returns are not guaranteed and there is the potential for capital loss
- » The amount of your future superannuation savings (including contributions and returns) may not be enough to provide adequately for your retirement
- » You may not be able to withdraw your money at the time that you want to, as the law restricts when you can withdraw your funds

- » Your investment may be affected by changes in the economic environment domestically and/or internationally, and
- » Your investment may be affected by changes in the political environment and/or changes to legislation, particularly in relation to taxation and superannuation laws.

Other risks of investing, dependant on the investments and/or asset classes you choose include:

- » Fund risk
- » Investment manager risk
- » Operational risk
- » Diversification risk
- » Counterparty risk
- » Interest rate risk
- » Derivatives risk
- » Company risk
- » Inflation risk
- » Market risk
- » Foreign currency risk
- » Liquidity risk
- » Credit risk
- » Climate change risk

The risks identified are not meant to be exhaustive as it is not possible to identify every risk factor associated with investing. The appropriate level of risk for you will depend on various factors including your age, investment timeframe, other investments you may hold, and your level of risk tolerance. Your adviser will advise you of the relevant risks associated with your chosen account type and investments selection.

You should read the Additional Information Guide about the risks of super before making a decision to invest. This Guide is available from your adviser or the Fund's website, masonstevens.com.au/super.

5] HOW WE INVEST YOUR MONEY

When your application is accepted by the Trustee, a Self-Directed Portfolio ("SDP") will be established that will accept your initial cash. This can comprise your rollover, regular contributions and any other contributions you may make. The cash held in your SDP represents the cash you have available to invest directly and will remain in your SDP until an investment instruction is received from you and/or your adviser.

Choosing investments

You can use your cash to invest in:

- » Australian and international equities, fixed income securities, managed funds, and term deposits through your SDP, and in addition to your SDP, and/or
- » Managed Portfolios which are professionally managed investments that have a defined objective and may hold Australian and international equities, fixed income securities, and managed funds or a combination of all of these in the one portfolio.

A variety of investment choices is offered both through your SDP and any Managed Portfolios. For more information, refer to the Investment Guide. Your adviser can help you make investments through your SDP at any time with any unallocated cash and also help you allocate future contributions to your Managed Portfolios, subject to any investment limits. If you invest in Managed Portfolios the investment manager will be instructing the Fund to buy and sell the assets that make up the Managed Portfolio.

You are required to hold a minimum cash balance in your SDP at all times. The minimum cash balance for each phase is set out in the Additional Information Guide.

Your adviser can help you select from a list of Managed Portfolios that provide a number of pre-built strategies with exposure to a diverse range of assets that can help you achieve your retirement goals. In addition, you may also select assets that may be held directly through your SDP.

The information below outlines an example investment that may be held through your SDP.

Example: Vanguard Growth Index Fund

Vanguard Growth Index Fund
Investment manager	Vanguard Investments Australia Ltd
Investment objective and investment strategy	The Fund seeks to track the weighted average return of the various indices of the underlying funds in which the Fund invests in proportion to the Strategic Asset Allocation (SAA) for the Fund, before taking into account fees, expenses and tax.

Labour standards or environmental, social or ethical considerations

Labour standards or environmental, social or ethical considerations are not taken into account by the Trustee in the selection, retention or realisation of the Fund's investments. However, some external investment managers offered through the Fund may choose, at their discretion, whether to take into account environmental, social or ethical issues or labour standards when making their investment decisions.

You should read the Additional Information Guide and Investment Guide about how we invest your money. The material relating to how we invest your money may change between the time you read this PDS and the date when you acquire Mason Stevens Super. Both guides are available from your adviser or the Fund's website masonstevens.com.au/super.

6] FEES AND COSTS

? Did you know?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long term returns.

For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your account balance rather than 1% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30 year period (for example, reduce it from $100 000 to $80 000).

You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs.

You or your employer may be able to negotiate to pay lower fees. Ask the Fund or your financial adviser.

TO FIND OUT MORE

If you would like to find out more, or see the impact of the fees based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) website (moneysmart.gov.au) has a superannuation calculator to help you check out different fee options.

Fees and costs table

The table below shows fees and other costs you may be charged through the Service. These fees and costs may be deducted from your cash, or from the assets of the Fund as a whole. Other fees, such as activity fees, advice fees for personal advice and insurance fees may also be charged, but these will depend on the nature of the activity, advice or insurance chosen by you. Taxes, insurance fees and other costs are set out in the Additional Information Guide. All fees disclosed in this PDS are inclusive of the estimated net effect of GST (i.e. inclusive of GST, less any input tax credits and or Reduced Input Tax Credit (RITC)). Please see Additional Information Guide for further information.

² When members make investments in or withdrawals from a unitised product (such as a managed fund) via their SDP or as part of a Managed Portfolio, that managed fund may need to buy or sell assets accordingly in the fund. The buy-sell spread is the cost charged by the external manager for your purchase or sale of units in the managed fund. Mason Stevens Super does not charge a buy-sell spread. However, investments from a unitised product held in SDPs or Managed Portfolios may incur a buy-sell spread and this may be deducted from the unit price. You should read the relevant disclosure document for full information.

³ Other fees and costs may apply depending on how you invest, including activity fees, any government levies, and advice fees relating to services provided to you, insurance fees and costs associated with Family Law Act requirements.

For further information about other fees and costs refer to the Additional explanation of fees and costs section in the Additional Information Guide. Any adviser remuneration is an additional fee which may apply if an adviser is consulted. Adviser remuneration is negotiable with your adviser.

Example of annual fees and costs for a balanced investment option – Vanguard Growth Index Fund

This table gives an example of how the fees and costs for the Vanguard Growth Index Fund investment option for this superannuation product can affect your superannuation investment over a 1-year period. You should use this table to compare this superannuation product with other superannuation products.

Example ⁴ – Vanguard Growth Index Fund		Balance of $50,000
Investment fees	Investment fee 0% p.a.	For every $50,000 you have in the superannuation product you will be charged $0⁵ each year.
PLUS Administration fees	Administration fee⁶ $27.50 per month Expense recovery charge 0.05% p.a. Account keeping fee $10 per month	And you will be charged $475 in administration fees each year. This is made up of: » $330 in administration fees (being $27.50 per month) » $25 for the recovery of expenses » $120 for the costs of maintaining your account.
PLUS Indirect costs for the superannuation product	Cash management fee 0.60% p.a.	And , indirect costs of $12 each year will be deducted from your investment ⁷ .
EQUALS Cost of product		If your balance was $50,000, then for that year you will be charged fees of $487 for the superannuation product.

⁴ This example assumes the $48,000 is invested in the Vanguard Growth Index Fund and a minimum cash balance of $2,000 in your accumulation account is additionally held (for the 1-year period). For pension members, the minimum cash balance is $5,000. Please refer to the Maintaining a minimum cash balance section in the Additional Information Guide for further details.

⁶ Administration fees may reduce as a percentage of your account balance for higher account balances due to the application of tiered administration fees.

⁷ The cash management fee is calculated as a percentage of your cash holdings in your account. See the explanation of this fee in the Fees and costs table earlier in this section.

Additional fees

Note: Additional fees may apply. And, if you leave the superannuation entity, a buy-sell spread may apply if you invested in a unitised product such as a managed fund which also applies whenever you make a contribution, exit, rollover or investment switch. The buy-sell spread for exiting the Vanguard Growth Index Fund is 0.10% (this will equal to $50 for every $50,000 you withdraw). Refer to the Mason Stevens Super Additional Information Guide for details of any additional fees which might apply.

Changes to fees

The Trustee can change the fees at any time without your consent. You will be notified of any changes and given not less than 30 days' written notice for any fee increase or the introduction of a new fee.

Additional explanation of fees and costs

There is additional information regarding the fees and costs depending on how you invest that may be associated with your account. Please refer to the Additional Information Guide. You must read the Additional Information Guide about fees and costs before making a decision to invest. This Guide is available from your adviser or the Mason Stevens website masonstevens.com.au/super. The material relating to fees and costs may change between the time you read this PDS and the day when you acquire Mason Stevens Super.

7] HOW SUPER IS TAXED

Tax may apply on:

- » contributions made to the Fund
- » investment earnings, and
- » withdrawals made from the Fund.

Members should seek professional tax advice which takes into account their individual circumstances.

Tax on contributions

Generally, tax on concessional contributions (e.g. employer contributions and salary sacrifice contributions) is deducted at 15%. However additional taxes may apply to high income earners or if you have exceeded your contribution caps.

For up to date information regarding the contribution caps please refer to ato.gov.au.

Warning! The Federal Government sets limits (or caps) on the amount of contributions you can make each financial year. If you exceed the relevant contribution caps applicable to your superannuation for a financial year, you may pay excess contributions tax. Monitoring to ensure any caps are not exceeded resides with the member.

Tax on investment earnings

Net investment earnings are generally taxed at a maximum rate of 15% (the actual rate may be lower) for accumulation and TTR accounts. In the pension phase earnings are generally tax free.

Tax on withdrawals

A $1.6m transfer cap applies on the total amount of superannuation a member can hold in a tax free retirement income stream.

If you make a lump sum withdrawal, part or all of the withdrawal may be taxed depending on your age and if you have exceeded the transfer cap. The tax rate depends on whether you have reached your preservation age. If you have not reached your preservation age you must be able to meet a condition of release in order to make a withdrawal. See the Additional Information Guide for details on your preservation age.

Tax on death

The tax treatment applied upon death is based on who receives your benefit.

Generally, a lump sum is paid to your dependants (e.g. your spouse (including de facto and same sex partner), or child under the age of 18) and is tax-free. For payments that are made to non-dependants (e.g. adult children who are not financially dependent on you) tax applies to any taxable component of your superannuation benefit.

Supplying your Tax File Number

You are not required by law to provide your Tax File Number (TFN). However, the Trustee requires your TFN to match within the ATO client register to validate your member details. The Administrator will not be able to accept your application without a valid TFN.

8] INSURANCE IN YOUR SUPER

If you have a super account then you can apply for personal insurance cover to provide financial support if you die or become disabled. The insurance cover is provided under an insurance policy issued under the name of the Trustee as determined by the Trustee from time to time by the relevant insurance company ("Insurer").

Types of cover

If you are eligible, the types of insurance cover available to you are as follows:

» Death cover

A lump sum payment will be paid if you die or are diagnosed with a terminal illness.

» Total and Permanent Disablement (TPD) cover

A lump sum payment will be paid if, due to illness or injury, you are unlikely to ever engage in gainful employment for which you are reasonably qualified.

» Income protection cover

Regular monthly payments will be paid if you become totally or partially disabled.

Applying for cover

You can apply for insurance cover by reading the relevant PDS issued by the Insurer and completing the relevant application and supplying any additional documentation or evidence as required by the Insurer.

Your adviser will assist you in selecting the Insurer and completing the application. Once received by the Insurer, your application will be assessed.

You will be notified when your insurance cover will commence once your application has been accepted by the Insurer.

9] HOW TO OPEN AN ACCOUNT

Setting up your account

Your adviser can assist you to complete the online application form.

Mason Stevens Super requires a minimum initial balance of $20,000 for accumulation accounts and $50,000 for TTR and pension accounts. For accumulation accounts, once established, you can choose to make regular additional contributions with a minimum of $100 per month. Details of the contributions you can make are set out in the Additional Information Guide.

When you apply for a pension account we will ask for information to verify your identity before the application process is complete.

The Trustee has the discretion to refuse your application if your application is incomplete and/or we are unable to confirm your identity.

If we are unable to open your account within 30 days we will either return your application funds to you or to the institution you are rolling over from. You will not earn any interest on the application funds during this period. In either of these circumstances we will contact your adviser.

Self Directed Portfolio (SDP)

When your application is accepted, a SDP will be established that will accept your initial cash. This can comprise your rollover, regular contributions and any other contributions you may make. The cash held in your SDP represents the cash you have available to invest directly. It will remain in your SDP until an investment instruction is received from you and/or your adviser.

Your cash account will be used for the following purposes:

- » purchases and redemptions of investments through your SDP
- » any insurance premiums
- » certain fees, and
- » payments of income you receive for certain investments held in your SDP.

You and/or your adviser can provide Mason Stevens with instructions on how money in the cash account is to be invested. Until instruction is received money will continue to be held in cash.

You are responsible for maintaining the minimum cash balance within your SDP at all times, and you should read the Maintaining a minimum cash balance section in the Additional Information Guide. If your cash balance falls below the minimum, the Trustee may sell some of your investments to top up your cash balance.

How to transact on your account

Through the Fund the Trustee will act on instructions received from you and/or your adviser. Trade instructions will be placed through the Service.

Cooling off period

A cooling off period of 14 days applies for your initial application, from the earlier of the date you receive your confirmation of your account opening or 5 days from joining the Fund. If you change your mind during this time, you can cancel your account by writing to Mason Stevens Super. If you make a transaction on your account in this time you will be unable to exercise your cooling off rights.

If your membership is cancelled during this period, no fees or costs will be incurred. If any part of the contributions is subject to preservation requirements, these cannot be refunded and must be rolled over to another complying superannuation entity or retirement savings account. If the nomination by you cannot be affected, this may result in benefits being transferred to an eligible rollover fund.
